

Pahlmeyer

The inky purple hue of the 2007 Pièce de Résistance focuses your attention on its beauty, while the nose and palate send the rest of your senses into blissful overdrive. With aromas of cassis, pain grille and blueberry crème pie with toasted graham cracker crust, the nose explodes out of the glass. On the palate, fruit tart and preserve notes intermingle with milk chocolate, cinnamon and brown sugar accents. Once a sip has been savored, the wine rewards you with the slowly lilting vanilla, blackberry and caramel finish. This gorgeously-structured wine will cellar for more than 20 years.
